

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

The invention relates to an apparatus for adjustably securing an ultrasonic transducer to an orthopedic appliance, having:

- (a) an optional adjustable clamp adapted to adjustably secure the apparatus to an element of an orthopedic appliance;
- 5 (b) a transducer holder adapted to secure the transducer to the apparatus;
- (c) an adjustable connector adapted to adjustably connect the optional adjustable clamp to the transducer holder.

10

1247219
TRANSCUTANEOUS
SECUREMENT